Date: November 17-18, 2010

Time: 8.45am-5pm daily.

Venue: Economics and Commerce Building, University of Melbourne, Parkville Campus.

About the Disability Support Worker Conference

This conference is a unique event that provides an excellent opportunity for delegates to experience the latest in products, services and techniques. Your organisation will benefit by promoting brand awareness to more than 500 Disability Support Workers and management staff from a wide variety of disability services around Australia and New Zealand.

The DSW Conference gives Disability Support Workers the opportunity to be exposed to up to date information and be challenged by the debates and issues within the disability sector. Each year, the ASSID program committee develops an inclusive program with highly regarded speakers in their field locally & internationally. The program is practically oriented and primarily composed of workshops and keynote addresses.

Conference Theme

Over the last 10 years, this conference has helped shape the way DSWs provide support to people with a disability. This year's theme "10 Years On: Looking Back but Moving Forward" prompts us to be mindful of the impact history has on our future direction. It is imperative that we reflect on the pathways the disability sector has taken over the last decade and use this practice to inform the choices we make for tomorrow.
